Fremantle staff badges

Most people have heard the adage “staff are our major asset” but at Fremantle Hospital and Health Service the words are put into action. Annually the hospital recognises long-serving staff with special presentations of badges that honour 10, 20, 30 or other decades of service. In the past the badges have been distributed at the staff Christmas function but the large number of recipients in 2008 saw another function held in the C.C. Bennett Lecture Theatre for presentations to staff who have been here 10 or 20 years.

Dr Graeme Dedman honoured with FHPSG Life Membership

Joyce Mynett (President) presents Dr Graeme Dedman with Life Membership.

The Fremantle Heart Patient Support Group (FHPSG) has recognised the support and advice that Dr Graeme Dedman has given the group over many years of association.

Dr Dedman, who has worked in Cardiology at Fremantle Hospital for more than 18 years, said he was privileged to be presented with Honorary Life Membership of the volunteer group.

The award were presented by FHPSG President Joyce Mynett who said Dr Dedman’s contribution and support for the group had never wavered.

“This group were instrumental in getting the Cardiac Catheter Theatre established in 1990 and securing cardiothoracic surgery for the hospital in 1997,” Dr Dedman said.

“They have worked tirelessly to support the staff and patients with fundraising, equipment donations and volunteer support.”

“The many hours they spend at the hospital assisting patients who undergo cardiac procedures and operations is something to be greatly admired,” Dr Dedman said.

Dr Dedman who was Manager of Cardiac Services between 1995 and 2006. He is General Manager of WA Cardiology and works part-time in the Cardiac Catheter Theatre as a Senior Medical Imaging Technologist.

Recently he completed a Doctorate in Business Administration — a long way from his first job at Fremantle Hospital aged 17 when employed as a mail courier.

Fremantle hosts Japanese Hospital tour group

Fremantle Hospital went international when 12 health professionals from Yoshino Hospital, Japan visited.

The Japanese pharmacists, dieticians and medical records staff visited similar departments at Fremantle Hospital.

The visit sparked intense discussion between the Japanese health professionals and their Fremantle counterparts.
