

And the winner is...

*Russell Cronin,
Senior Hyperbaric Technician,
Department of Diving and Hyperbaric Medicine*

I am very pleased to advise that Russell is the August winner of the Employee of the Month Award.

In nominating Russell for the award, staff described him as being an exemplary team player, always cheerful and eager to assist in all matters requiring attention.

They praised the way Russell interacts with patients and relatives. His caring manner has been recognised by many people and he, and the unit, have received many compliments for this.

Russell also has great technical ability that is essential in Hyperbaric Medicine and those nominating him for the award said that he always met the required standards.

Russell is currently on leave. On his return to work a formal presentation of the award by the Hospital Executive team will be held with Russell and his colleagues.
