Take Action for Child Protection

Staff and visitors to Fremantle Hospital learnt more about Child Protection thanks to an educational display in B5 all last week.

Senior Social Worker Anna Tee coordinated the display to promote awareness of this year's campaign for National Child Protection Week – Help bring child abuse out in the Open.

Staff from the Children's Ward and Social Work Department manned the display during peak times answering questions and giving out leaflets.

Staff were able to learn more about assessing available resources and were invited to participate in the national survey.

Ms Tee extended special thanks to the following people and groups:

Executive Director of Nursing and Patient Support Services Associate Professor Ruth Letts, A/Executive Director Clinical Services, Alan Millard, Fremantle Hospital Ladies' Auxiliary for financial support,

Hospital School Services for co-sponsoring the name badges 'every child is special', Better Beginnings for free bags which were given to families and staff from the Children's Ward and Social Work Department

Senior Information and Education Officer for the Statewide Protection of Children Coordination (SPOCC) unit, Marg McBride, visited the display and answered queries.

Mary Harney and Chris Perriam at the display.

Dr Jane Clohessy, Dr James Molton, Anna Tee and Margaret McBride.
